

Tim Austin

“The Rugged Gentleman”

Tim’s goal is to change our entire culture by shedding light on the disrespect that is rampant in our society today. The mission of Austin Building Company is to build a framework based on a message of respect, honor, and courage.

As an authority on the subject of respect and honor, he brings wisdom and humor to his subject while entertaining, educating and challenging his audience.

He is also the successful author of two books, Real Men Don’t Talk Trash and most recently, Permission to be Tough: Raising Boys to be Rugged Gentlemen.

Tim’s experience as a teacher, mentor, youth camp director, coach, and successful business owner has given him the insight, knowledge and wisdom to...

“...shape the next generation of young men to be self-reliant, self-disciplined, thoughtful, patient, kind, chivalrous, yet fierce when necessary.”

Invite Tim to your next meeting to share the importance of being:

- Intellectually honest and wise
- Mentally tough and determined
- Emotionally stable and balanced
- Spiritually committed and humble
- Physically strong and healthy
