

REAL MEN DON'T TALK TRASH

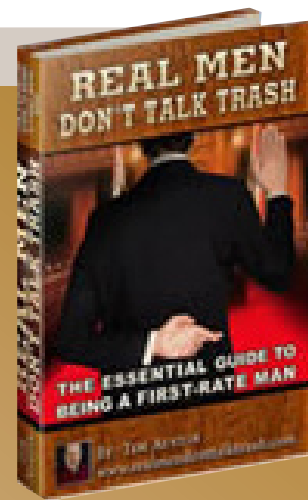

THE ESSENTIAL GUIDE TO BEING A FIRST-RATE MAN

Are you tired of the rudeness and disrespect in our culture? According to author and motivational speaker Tim Austin, disrespect is the cause of stress, chaos and turmoil in our relationships.

Success comes from respect. Understanding respect and honor will help you shape the world around you into a peaceful, productive place. Respectful people live by an Honor Code. This code reveals the behavior and attitudes found in people of honor.

Austin's inspiring ideas are based on understanding and accepting that men of all ages function at their best in an environment of mutual regard and respect. Young men in the workplace fight for respect from the boss; husbands struggle with respect issues at home; a middle age man's mid-life crisis hinge on self-respect as he changes; and seniors ache for respect from a culture that has pushed them aside.

Nothing brings you success like respect in this man's world, and making a few simple changes can help you earn it, and keep it. Find out how in Real Men Don't Talk Trash: The Essential Guide to Being a First-Rate Man.

"Respect must be earned."

"Learning how to gain respect and honor everyday is guaranteed to eliminate much of the stress and chaos in your life."

"You must give respect to get it."

PERMISSION TO BE TOUGH

RAISING BOYS TO BE RUGGED GENTLEMEN

A Rugged Gentleman is just that. He eats healthy food, exercises and gets the proper amount of sleep. He reads good books, converses with intelligent people, views good movies, and continually learns new information. He hangs out with inspiring people, pushes himself, participates in challenging activities, learns from his mistakes, humbly serves his fellow man, triumphs over failure, and protects the innocent.

A Rugged Gentleman is tough, courageous, strong, and full of character. He is sweet, sensitive and gentle; and has the wisdom to know when to be rugged and when to be a gentleman.
